

WINTREK

Version 1.9

In order to play WINTREK, you MUST have:

- * Windows 95, Windows 3.1, or Windows for Workgroups 3.11.
- * A VGA display and video capable of at least 16 colors.
- * Approximately 950K of free hard disk space.

To get the most out of WINTREK, you should optionally have:

- * A windows-compatible sound card (SoundBlaster, etc.).
- * 8 Megabytes of RAM
- * A 486-50 Mhz system or better.
- * Run Windows in Enhanced Mode, and install SmartDrive or other cache.

The five files WINTREK.EXE, WINTREK1.DLL, WINTREK2.DLL, WINTREK.HLP, and README.WRI make up the files you need to run WINTREK. Copy them to your hard disk, preferably to their own directory. WINTREK will create two other files when run, WINTREK.SCR and WINTREK.INI. Any time you elect to save a game, WINTREK will create a file with a .GAM extension in the path you specify.

WINTREK doesn't add any files to your Windows or Windows\System directory, and it doesn't touch your WIN.INI or SYSTEM.INI files. WINTREK does not have to be in your PATH statement. To run WINTREK, use the Program Manager, the Explorer, or your shell's RUN command, or better yet set up an item in a group. If you decide that WINTREK is not for you, simply delete all the files in your WINTREK directory.

WINTREK 1.9 is fully Windows '95 compatible. If you experience problems, they are probably related to video drivers. make sure you have the latest video drivers from your video card manufacturer. Online services such as America On Line as well as Internet Web pages are a good source for the latest drivers. WINTREK will run in 16-colors, but selecting 256 color mode or higher is recommended.

Feel free to distribute WINTREK to other folks who may want to "try before they buy". I only ask that you include all 5 files (listed above) whenever you distribute copies.

The object of WINTREK is to find all the aliens and destroy them. You have several weapons and operational systems to perform your task. The Photon Torpedoes (PHO) and Phasers (PHA) are use to destroy the aliens. Use the Navigation (NAV) button to move around in the galaxy. If you complete the mission on time, your score will be added to the "Top Star Fleet Officers" list.

WINTREK is a complex game. There are literally thousands of scenarios and tactics that can be used. For $20, I will send you a comprehensive printed manual offering in-depth coverage of every control, details on each system command, tables of all hot keys, tactical and strategic playing hints, and charts covering Alien and Ship Operational Data. In addition, you'll receive the latest version of the software on diskette.

To register and receive your manual and diskette, send $20 ($25 in US funds for Overseas Air Mail) to:
